TO THE MASSES:

On October 30, 1972, The Human Justice Commission was founded in order to represent the poor people, working people and senior citizens. Although this Commission organizes activities which are usually confined to the Marion County area, there have been attempts to deal with state and federal issues. In the eleven months of its existence, the accomplishments of this Commission have included the successful campaign influential in the removal of the sales tax on food, new legislation to increase unemployment compensation benefits, and the doubling of rents standards in eight Township Trustee offices in Marion County.

Presently, a student chapter of this organization is in the planning stage. This chapter will deal with community problems, campus issues, and other issues pertinent to students. Within the next few months, a city-wide organizational meeting will take place to set down goals of the chapter. A spokesman for the chapter visited Marian this week and expressed his hope that Marian students could actively participate and contribute ideas to the chapter. I would like to urge all students to consider the value of this project and help with the organization of it. I have additional literature concerning this project that all interested students can read. If you would like to know more about the student chapter of the Human Justice Commission, contact myself or Dave Stark.

From the Masses:

Dear Carbon,

I am an art student here at Marian and I have just found out some unusual information concerning art students.

At the beginnings of the year we are asked to pay an "ART FEE". ($10.00 to 15.00 depending on what class) I assumed that this was to cover the sum of all our art supplies. Upon arriving in class, the instructor proceeded to list various things that we would be required to have for that semester (which totalled up about the same price if not more than what we had paid for as a FEE before classes started). Being puzzled and very disturbed about this I proceeded to ask my fellow art classmates. I was informed that this FEE was to pay RENTAL on looking at the objects set before us and for sitting on the benches or using the easels. Now when I go to any other class do I pay to sit in a chair and use the desk top to write notes on? I know that we all pay tuition and fees that in turn pay for our instructor and/or professor. But we don't pay for the use of the desk as an EXTRA FEE! So why in some art classes do we have to pay such a fee.

As far as that goes, I could bring my own chair or bench from home and my own objects to draw if it meant the difference of a fee. But why should I have to do that? Does any other student have to carry his own desk to class? Does any other student have to pay a fee to sit on a chair and look at an object?

Art supplies and materials are high enough and art students are POOR enough without having to pay for just such a fee.

If I have been mislead as to the use of this fee then please let me know and all the other art students who may be mislead of this.

Another poor artist!

Day Student Questionnaire Fall 1973

In the past "day students" (commuters) have expressed concern about the disadvantages encountered by not living on campus. As a first step in an attempt to determine the concerns "day students" face today, and to consequently attempt to work toward alleviating the concerns, a questionnaire is in today's paper. All "day students" are requested to complete this questionnaire and send it or bring it to the Office of Student Services or deposit it in a box in the Information Office, (Main Entrance to Marian Hall) by September 28.

SPORT SHORTS

by Tim

The intramural football season gets underway this week with four games scheduled for this Sunday. Many teams bolstered their roster with pre-season trades, the most outstanding of which was the trading of the old pro Bill Doherty by the Vice Lords to the Stoned Rangers. It was reported that the Lords received two Willie Mays', one Hank Aaron and an underclosed number of catseye marbles. Doherty, by the way, is one of the most intelligent players in the league and history teacher during the off seasons. The Lords also have picked up on waivers Ron Morgan, who is the second oldest member of the league, and plays like it.

The Bad Josés, with Ken Aust at quarterback and Rick Martin as his prime receiver, are a definite title threat. In an exclusive interview with the Carbon, Bill Platt, co-captain of the Playboys said, "We're not big, but we're slow." The Dirty Dozen under the Leadership of Steve 'King of the Pit' Padgett have a team of seasoned veterans who could be tough if they take the game seriously.

With receivers like Tom Fahey and Lyle Bickley the Degenerates are a definite threat to score this season. The Nutcrackers, a group of rookies organized by Curt Stoll, could be the surprise of the league, but I doubt it. Pat Hennessey will also enter a team if he can round up enough players by game time.

Sundays games (favoered teams listed first)

12:30 Bad Josés vs. Payboys

1:30 Vice Lords vs. ???

2:30 Dirty Dozens vs. Nutcrackers

3:30 Stoned Rangers vs. Degenerates

Last night victory, as "I am woman" roared throughout the country, here at Marian a great advancement was made for the Women Libbers in Clare Hall. Why can it not be an accepted fact that Billie Jean King played a better game of tennis than Riggs? Instead, many of the "chauv-onists" are defending the loser by making excuses for him. (His age was his handicap.) Can it not be accepted that women are equal to men???
